

Story 1: The Brave Little Squirrel

There is a small squirrel named Sam. Sam likes to collect acorns for the winter. Every day, he runs around and finds acorns to put in his tree. One day, he sees a big hawk flying above him. The hawk is flying down, trying to scare Sam. But Sam stands tall and says, "I am not afraid of you. I have work to do!"

The hawk looks surprised and flies away. Sam feels proud because he does not run away. He keeps finding acorns and putting them in his tree. Sam knows that being brave means doing the right thing, even when he is scared. In winter, Sam is warm and safe in his tree with all his acorns. He smiles, knowing he is the bravest squirrel in the forest.

Story 2: The Kind Elephant

In the jungle, there is a big elephant named Ellie. Ellie is kind and always helps her friends. She uses her long trunk to lift heavy things. One day, Ellie sees a monkey named Momo stuck in a tree. The branch is too high, and Momo cannot get down.

Momo is scared and calls out, "Help! I can't get down!" Ellie walks over and uses her trunk to lift Momo down. "Thank you, Ellie! You are very kind!" says Momo. Ellie smiles and says, "We all need to help each other." From that day, all the animals know they can count on Ellie. Ellie feels happy because she helps her friends, and the jungle feels like a safe place for everyone.

Story 3: The Little Raindrop

High in the clouds, there is a small raindrop named Ria. Ria is scared to fall to the ground. "What if I fall too fast?" she worries. Her friends say, "It will be fun, Ria! We are falling together and helping the flowers grow." The other raindrops twinkle as they fall, making Ria feel less scared.

Ria lets go of the cloud. She falls through the sky with her friends all around her. She lands softly on a flower. The flower, which is drooping, stands tall and opens its petals. Ria sees the grass turning green and the flowers blooming. She feels happy she can help. Ria learns that trying new things makes beautiful things happen. She smiles, knowing she is part of something important.

Story 4: The Proud Rooster

There is a rooster named Rico. He loves his bright feathers. Every morning, he stands on the fence and crows loudly, "Look at me! I am the best!" He likes showing off his bright red feathers to everyone. One day, he hears a sparrow singing. The sparrow has plain brown feathers, but her song is beautiful.

"Why are you singing?" asks Rico. "Your feathers are not bright like mine." The sparrow smiles and says, "I sing to make others happy. It is not about how I look." Rico feels bad and thinks about what she says. The next day, he and the sparrow sing together. The animals on the farm stop and listen. They feel happy and smile. Rico learns it is better to share and be kind. From then on, they sing together every morning, and the farm is a happy place.
